Intern needed for fast-growing supplement marketing company

An established, successful business person is seeking an intern for a fast-growing supplement marketing company.

- Mentorship - You will learn directly from me:
 - How to build a six or seven-figure lifestyle business from someone who has.
 - What I learned during my 2 years of grinding it out for pennies (This is why you need a mentor)
 - Insider secrets of the big-money industries me and my friends work in.
- Location Independence - Work from anywhere in the world (ideally you would work from sunny Thailand, where I alternate between Chiang Mai, Bangkok, and beaches). If you've got a boring cubicle job, and you're looking to make a lifestyle change, I urge you to seriously consider this opportunity.
- Networking - Meet success stories, internet marketing celebrities, and (mostly) more next-door-millionaires than you knew existed.
 - Reading 4HWW and similar books can simultaneously make the dream seem accessible and yet also very far away. Something amazing happens when you meet a room full of people with self-made 7-figure bank accounts and ideal lifestyles and your preoccupying thought is, "No one here is smarter than me."
- A modern office will be provided. I will buy you membership to a local co-working space, which allows both of us a fun, social environment. You may also work from home or coffeeshops (or the beach) if you'd prefer.
- $1,000 USD per month with potential for bonuses, raises, and a long-term career. There is massive room to grow.
 - I single-handedly ran my last business and averaged $15,500 in monthly profit during 2012 while taking it relatively easy. For some context, in 2011 I saved $0 while working my ass off (I was 20 at the time). This time around, I'm doing things properly.
 - In Chiang Mai, Thailand, this is conservatively equivalent to $20 USD per hour, both in buying power and in relation to each country's respective minimum wages. You can afford a comfortable expat life here on $1000 USD per month. This is one of several reasons I would prefer if you came here when we started working together.
 - If this paycheck is your primary motivation for applying, please do not apply; the mentorship is far more valuable.

Your role

Your responsibilities will include:

- eCommerce business management
- Search Engine Optimization
- Managing outsourcers
- Overseeing projects
- Basic web development (maybe)
- Basic marketing campaign management

You will likely be given a managing role in a new business running on a business model that I've already proven viable. You will work to corner a specific niche using this business model, with my guidance, and with access to the rest of the team.

I see this as an internship for 4-6 months. After cash flow picks up, we can re-discuss your role in the company.

What's the company all about?

Nutraceuticals Limited is an American-owned-and-run, Hong Kong-based nutraceuticals marketing company. This means we sell dietary supplements (our own brands) - a billion dollar industry that, has always been particularly rewarding to smart newcomers.

We analyze open niches, develop solutions, and market these solutions to customers. Our strategic advantage lies in the marketing.

Can I work four hours a week?

No, and I won't either. I've taken it easy for a good chunk of the past two years and it's time to get back to work. We'll be working up to 40 hours a week during the building phase of this company.

I don't really believe in working more than 40 hours a week unless it's a very short-term thing. I also don't believe in working on Sundays.

This is a full-time job and you will be expected to work solely for our company.

What skills are required?

This is not for beginners. You should be a geek at heart. You should have spent too much time during your teenage or recent years messing around on the web. You should have tried to start an ecommerce store and failed. You should have used Wordpress.

- Motivated
- Reliable
- Mentally sound
- Morally flexible

You should be self-directed and capable of managing projects on your own. You will be given lots of authority over how you work and what you work on.

What should I include in my application?

Your experience with the following technologies?

- FTP
- HTML
- CSS
- PHP
- Wordpress
- eCommerce technologies

A brief history of your life as a businessperson.

A brief history of your attempts to start online businesses.

A brief history of yourself.

Why specifically is this a good fit for your life right now.

The interview process

If you fit the above criteria, and you think we could work well together, great! Do the following:

- Record a brief video (3 minutes max), in which you cover your experience in the above technologies as well as a brief history of yourself. The primary purpose of this is to separate the merely curious from the genuinely serious.
- Send me an email (and application; see above) so we can set up a skype date.

If we both think we will make a good fit, we will make it happen.

Thanks,

Cameron Parker
